

Indians Set for Home Opener Saturday After Blasting Sox 7-1

Keltner and Reynolds Star; Cubs Renew Hex on Cincy

By The Associated Press

Bob Feller, Albie Reynolds and the T-bes batters have all been in good shape the Indians are ready for Saturday at Cleveland against the T-bes. Red Sox on the pitching staff, probably will do the throwing as five-hut pitching and Ken Keltner's two home runs do with the Indians.

Loa Boudreau was out of the White Sox in yesterday making it two days for the start of the season.

The largest turnout of the day 11,300 witnessed the Cubs triumph which placed them in an early season tie for first with the New York Giants. In contrast, Tuesday's opening day attendance was 236,730.

The Cubs kept pace with the Tigers by defeating Philadelphia 5-2 for their second straight victory. The Phillies' 31 year old Bob Joyce gained his first National League victory in hitting the Phils to seven blows while the Polo Grounds took advantage of nine walks given up by southpaw Frank Horner to score all their runs.

Cleveland and Boston's Red Sox were the only other teams to keep their 1945 slates clean.

The Red Sox staged an old fashioned slugfest, beating five Washington throwers which netted them 15 hits and a 13-6 decision over the Senators. Ted Williams and Don D. Maggio led the Sox attack. Williams enjoyed a perfect day with two doubles, a single and three walks while Joe DiMaggio's younger brother clouted a three run homer and tallied four times.

Boston's slugging was softened by the failure of Dave (Doc) Ferriss, its 21-game winner to last four innings. The 24 year old sophomore was blasted for eight hits and five runs in 3 2/3 innings.

Bobo Wins One

Philadelphia Athletics evened their series with the New York Yankees when they hopped on rookie Randy Gumpert, a former Mackman for five runs in the sixth inning to beat the Bronx Bombers 7-1 before 11,901. Old Bobo Neaseon made merry with the Yanks as he silenced their bats with three strikeouts.

Southpaw Max Lanier celebrated his return to the big leagues by blanking Pittsburgh with seven scattered singles as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Pirates 6-0. The Redbirds combed two Buc pitchers for 13 hits including a triple by Stan Musial and a home run by Enos Slaughter.

Rookie Hank Behrman, a 24-year-old right-hander who was purchased from Montreal only last Monday, turned back the Boston Braves with nine scattered hits as Brooklyn evened the opening series with a 4-2 victory.

HARDING THINGLADS LOSE TO RICHWOOD

Union Co. Team Spoils Prexy Opener 46 to 18.

Getty of Harding was well in the lead in the mile run and fell down eight yards from the finish line. Richardson finished second after he had spent himself in the first quarter. Coach George Nelson said he believed he had good material but tactics would have to be learned by experience.

Last 4 Holes at Canterbury May Keep Scores Way High.

By LARRY SMITH Associated Press Writer

CLEVELAND—Who'll win the 1946 National Open and what will the winning score be?

Genial Mal McLaren, greenkeeper at Canterbury Golf Club where the chopping will take place June 13, 14 and 15 won't guess the answer to either question but will make you a bet this way:

You pick three fellows out of the field, I'll take the rest of them.

Although he won't go out on a limb Mal says the most popular figure is 284 four under par and a matter of four 71s for the 72 holes. The guessing ranges all the way from 275 up to 286.

When Sarazen Beat Little

In the 1940 open at Canterbury Lawson Little and Gene Sarazen wound up in a 287 deadlock, with Little shooting a 70 and Sarazen a 73 in the playoffs.

Par is no walking at Canterbury. This 7,000 yard course over hill and dale narrow in many spots well guarded by nature and golf architects has no intention of being taken apart or set on fire—not even by Byron Nelson, Ben Hogan, Sam Snead or anyone else.

Only 32 sub par rounds were recorded in the 1940 Open. There were only 23 par rounds with 201 rounds over par. On individual holes the contestants went 3 or 4 over 255 times. Par was hit on 433 occasions with 783 birdies and 18 eagles.

The shortest hole is 170 yards and the longest the garsantuan No. 10 is pegged as 615 yards.

McLaren says no changes other than those supplied by nature will be made for the coming year.

Mal expects some of the pros might find Canterbury's greens a bit difficult.

Byron Nelson wasn't too confident about them when he played here in the '40 Open.

They talk about the last four holes at Canterbury being tough but just take a look at No. 10. A wide ditch lies in the middle of the 367-yard tenth.

Greenkeeper Mal McLaren tests the feel of the green on the first hole at Canterbury.

SANTA ANITA RACES BEHIND ON BETTING

But Harness Winners Pay Off in Big Time Style.

By The Associated Press

ARCADIA, Calif., April 18 — The Western Harness Racing association's current meeting at Santa Anita requiring a $100,000 daily take at the pari-mutuel ended up $138,000 behind for the first two days' receipts.

From a first-day handle of $368,150 the betting total dropped yesterday to $292,981 — an aggregate of $662,030 for the two days.

But there was nothing modest about some of yesterday's win payouts. Examples:

Earls Natyild, $45.80 in the third race. Guest Star, $35 in the fifth. Earl's Moody Guy, $66.60 in the seventh. Judith Francis, $42.30 in the eighth.

Sepp Palm, king of the Grand Circuit drivers, made his bow at the reins of Carleton Farm's Volar in the fourth race and scored a handy three-length victory in 1:33 1/4 for the sixth fur-long, paying $1, $3.30 and $3.30.

Marty England and Judy Francis won the two divisions of the feature 11-bar pace, a $3500 stake on each half.

Where It Will Stop Nobody Knows

THE debate by the American Association of Economic Planners for a general 25 per cent increase in the price of goods is considered today by OPA's officials to be a move toward the complete nationalization of the United States.

The OPA's position is made, no doubt, with a thought to the fact that the OPA had been asked to raise the price of goods to 100 per cent, but the OPA had refused to do so. The OPA's position is made, no doubt, with a thought to the fact that the OPA had been asked to raise the price of goods to 100 per cent, but the OPA had refused to do so.

There is no end in sight to the inflationary spiral on the heels of the demand for higher wages and prices and the demand for higher wages and prices.

Anybody who wants to bet on it? The OPA's position is made, no doubt, with a thought to the fact that the OPA had been asked to raise the price of goods to 100 per cent, but the OPA had refused to do so.

Meanwhile, it will continue to blame the inflation on the government, the public, and the business community. Under attack in local communities throughout the country for its methods, it will deny all charges and continue to blame the inflation on the government, the public, and the business community.

It will imply broadly that everyone is out to stop OPA. It will try to keep the subjects of the inflation, and otherwise, on the defensive. It will reply to every accusation that its premises are unfounded and to use the same premises for new accusations.

In each case it will explain that immediate relief will be forthcoming. Does anybody want to bet that immediate relief will be forthcoming? Even the spokesmen for OPA? Anybody at all?

Insoluble Problems IF THE United States survives its first hard clashes with the hard realities of national sovereignty and areas of influence, the rest should be relatively easy.

For reasons that do no credit to the good will of the governments concerned, there seems to be a plot to force the new organization to deal with insoluble problems first.

Spain is clearly an insoluble problem. It has taxed the ingenuity of diplomats for 10 years, since the beginning of the revolution that put Franco in power, it had taxed their ingenuity long before that.

The present move by Russia, backed by France and Poland, to oust Franco would solve nothing. Spain would continue to be what it is now—a weak nation that is the battleground for some of the bitterest controversies which are wracking a decadent Europe.

It is conveniently overlooked by those who deplore Franco for being the beneficiary of German and Italian intervention during the civil war that the government in power had been and continued to be backed by Russia. Spain's autonomy did not have to wait on Franco for betrayal. The war for European prestige that finally grew into World War II began in Spain.

The United Nations security council cannot solve the Spanish problem by adopting resolutions. It is clearer than it was before that it cannot solve the Iranian problem that way either—or any of a host of other problems. Perhaps the ultimate wisdom of statesmanship is to know what problems can be solved and what problems must be lived with in the hope that solutions some day may be forthcoming.

LATCH STRING IS OUT Everyone is remarking the strange attachment which Missourians have formed for the national capital. The hard thing this summer may be to get the St. Louis Browns out of town after a Washington series. The Detroit News.

More to Iranian Case Than Appears on Surface

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The Iranian case is more than a simple matter of oil. It is a complex of political, economic, and military factors that have been building up for years.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Trouble in the Circus

THERE is a battle within the Ringling family over control of the circus. Robert Ringling has been ousted as president in favor of his brother, Harry (a Ringling by marriage) and his wife, who are now in charge of the family. Lawyers are now in the big top and it grows in size.

The very thought that there could be such a battle and schism in connection with a circus is a new one. Our top ambition is a circus to own our own circus, and the Ringling Brothers were our pet story. There used to be a circus down the road on the big posters on the main street and their faces related happily to the world in those old time circus posters. LAURELS

Of course, some people have other ideas. They would like to see the Ringling family in the same fix and want a quick decision on the body we would just hire Gargantua and the Lawyers.

And now, oh, say, it comes to pass. The circus is now in a fix. The boys who operate the show are now in a fix. The circus is now in a fix. The boys who operate the show are now in a fix.

Robert Ringling has retained the lead role of the circus. But we were in the same fix and want a quick decision on the body we would just hire Gargantua and the Lawyers.

And if we had much to do with the circus, now in Madison Square Garden and soon to be in the family row. We would put Robert Ringling, John North Ringling and Jim Haley in the circus and make 'em fight it out twice daily in chariot races.

Of course, some people have other ideas. They would like to see the Ringling family in the same fix and want a quick decision on the body we would just hire Gargantua and the Lawyers.

Or make him stick his head in a lion's head. (Who knows what a lion would do for a lion's head in the show?)

Anyhow the world seems grimmer than ever to us and we urge that the matter be taken up by the United Nations. It is more important than any Persian issue. If a circus can't get along without a war, there is no hope anywhere else.

(HENRY AND CLARA FORD MARRIED YEARS—NEWS ITEM) Here's to Henry Ford and Clara. For so long a happy pair. For 38 years they road together. That's mileage, sir, in any weather!

Here's to Clara and here's to Henry. On quite a journey they have been. No couple made a journey finer. I guess the bumps were pretty mild.

The baseball season is on, but the UN conference is hard to down. At practice yesterday, the manager said to the players, "Remember, the first item on the agenda is strike-out."

The opening of the baseball season came back to the time when nothing mattered except homers. When "war" was a term applied only to pitchers' battles. When Cow and Berlin were just places with no scheduled. When the ump's alone gave the ultimatum, and when the equilibrium of the planet could be upset only by the news Sir Ruth had fanned.

Eventually (why not now?) school children will be taught to punch a typewriter instead of being forced to form letters with a pencil. Era of mechanical writing can be here when we are ready to equip every child with a portable writing machine.

Every parent whose children have had a typewriter knows they take to it as naturally as little rabbits to carrots. They can pick out and hit it on the nose years before they can do one of the pesky things with a pencil.

The typewriter makes it possible for the child to see the relationships of letters and words earlier than he discovers them in awkward and painfully executed script. The result is that spelling and sentence construction is speeded up.

Furthermore, having learned to think of letters and words as neat characters arranged in lines, the child takes the same patterns to his own script. Thus a child with typewriter training can print legible letters faster than a child without typewriter training can form cursive letters.

There is more to this than education. Teaching children is important, but the big thing about the coming era of universal typewriting is the improvements bound to come when the era gets momentum. We refer to the thought transfer now in the laboratory stage.

This marvelous machine will eliminate the hand in typewriting. The operator, instead of having to punch the keys to write letters and words, will lean back, gaze thoughtfully at the ceiling a few seconds and what he has thought then will be visible on paper.

There will be special models, of course, for persons speaking different languages; i.e., models enabling the operator to think in Russian and to read in Spanish, for instance. No help will anyone need to take pen in hand. A flip of a switch will do it all.

Old-fashioned handwriting will be as obsolete as hieroglyphics scratched on stone. Fountain pens and lead pencils will be seen only in museums. Even typewriters will be obsolete. People will ask one another what they did in the past, before thought transfers were perfected.

Say some fellow having a thought about a newspaper column is ready to go to work. Maybe he won't even rise from his bed. He'll flip a switch and the fellow just lies in bed. No clattering of keys or sentences of rearrange. No badly-chosen words or errors of punctuation. Anyone want to buy 100 shares preferred in the Twill Thought Transfer Co.?

U. S. Saving by Bond

By CHARLES MOLONY

WASHINGTON — During the war, more Americans—550,000 of them—put a dollar or more into U. S. Savings Bonds than they did into any other form of saving.

They're still buying under the pay-as-you-save plan, and the Federal Reserve Board is looking for a way to make it even easier.

There's been a steady increase in the rate of saving since the war began. The Federal Reserve Board is looking for a way to make it even easier.

Programs on the Air

James Melton, the tenor, and his comedy associate Ed Wynn, have just been renewed for another 13 weeks by the sponsor of "Star Theater" over CBS Sundays at 9:30 p. m. Starting the new part, they'll bring to the program Irving Berlin, America's premier popular composer, on Easter Sunday, when the broadcast will feature four hits from Berlin's new musical comedy smash, "Annie Get Your Gun."

Hal Peary, star of NBC's "The Great Gildersleeve," will forego his vacation this summer when "Gildersleeve" takes its 13-week summer hiatus in June. Present plans call for Peary to go before the cameras for another flicker in the "Gildersleeve" series based on his airshow.

The Mutual Broadcasting System will welcome its 300th station—WKRL, Oil City, Pa.—to its network in a special broadcast entitled "The 300 Party," Saturday at 8 p. m. This is the first time Oil City, heart of Pennsylvania's oil producing country and a region hitherto inaccessible to full network service broadcasts, will be the seat of origin of a national broadcast. With this addition, the leased communications lines linking the MBS network to a total of 20,000 miles of lines nearly encircle the globe. Over a score of entertainment acts will be presented from New York, Chicago, Buffalo, Nashville and other metropolitan centers and, of course, from Oil City itself.

The question, which network gets the June 19 Louis-Cornett fight broadcast, now has an answer. It will be ABC on an exclusive basis. Furthermore, under the signed contract, the sponsor will be the one (Gillette) who puts on the regular Friday night bout. There was no announcement as to the sum for broadcast rights, but based on past figures, $100,000 shouldn't be too far awry.

ABC expects to have 250 stations in its hookup, including short wave relays to the rest of the world.

All times given are Eastern Standard Time. Erroneous listings, if any, are caused by last minute changes made by stations and networks.

JAP PREMIER JOINS PROGRESSIVE PARTY

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, April 16—Lies in the hot political battle over the tenure of the Japanese cabinet drew tighter yesterday as Premier Shidehara abandoned his non-partisan position to become a member of the progressive party.

The government meanwhile announced a second official draft of the proposed new constitution, providing for secret diet sessions on a two-thirds vote of members and some other changes of moderate importance.

Shidehara's adherence to the progressive party, which won 93 diet seats in the recent election, coincides with previous activities to provide the government with a political basis to refute charges that his cabinet is without representation in the diet.

Japanese sources said the party had agreed to name Shidehara as its head.

The strongest opponent of the Shidehara cabinet is Hata, who stands to be shorn of all power should he be elected unacceptably by allied headquarters.

Reliable informants said the report to MacArthur described Hata as a clever but not too scrupulous politician who is maneuvering to capitalize on the 193 seats his liberal party won in the election.

Fate of the Nation Hanging on Length of Women's Skirts

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 17—If it gives women's skirts an inch longer, the government, will they take a foot?

And if so, will it bring on depression?

This is the moon-entics issue now before the Civilian Production Administration, which decides such things as how many buttonholes and pockets a female gets these days.

Women's skirts, normally as skittish as a stock market, have been hanging around the same length for four years now. All on account of a datum known in government circles as L-85.

L-85 says the dress of a size 16 miss shall measure 43 1/2 inches from back of the neck to hemline. Women's skirts to the upper 40s—found their wartime skirts had little leeway below a modest knee.

CPA got its postwar problem when it called in advisers recently to give L-85 a once-over. Every one's dress committee.

If the order must stay, said the committee, at least give every American woman a one-inch margin on her skirt.

With the one-inch issue squarely before them, CPA's experts (male) in the women's dress division are grappling with these questions:

(1) Will one inch lead to another?

(2) If 55,000 American women take an inch apiece, how many miles of cloth will they use?

(3) Is it true what they say about women's skirts—that when they're up, we're prosperous, when they're down, so is the country?

Spanish Town Enclosed by France in Dilemma

By MEL MOST
AP Newsfeatures Writer

LLIVIA, Franco-Spanish Border, April 18.—Livlia is in a dilemma. This tiny enclave of Spanish territory completely surrounded by France has become the forbidden village of the French border country since the closing of the frontier with Spain.

Spanish carabinieri with machine guns and French republican guards with submachine guns patrol the fields around this picturesque ancient agglomeration of 1,500 Spaniards.

The three main groups of burghers are disturbed. Shopkeepers are deprived of a lucrative black market trade with France which has made Livlia Spain's most expensive non-resort village. Border smugglers no longer can bring in and take out goods. Both are pinching more than ever the farm hands, now unable to work on nearby French farms. Only the peasants don't care.

One Point Open
The one place on the main French-Spanish border that cannot be closed is the point where the international road from Livlia to Puigcerda crosses it. Neither side can close it by the terms of a treaty dating from 1860.

Two French roads cut across the small international thoroughfare. At the crossings French customs officers now are reinforced by gendarmes. Spanish carabinieri posts at both ends of the road are reinforced by guards. Normal provisions for the people of Livlia from Puigcerda, but these have dwindled to a trickle with such strict control over comings and goings that even Falangists have a hard time getting permission to go from Spain.

French border inhabitants are peevish with this policy. The enclave may go right through the town provided they stick to the road. They are watched carefully to see that they do not enter the houses, or the village's two cafes. They pick their way, among the children playing in the street and look nervously at the well-stocked shop windows of merchants with whom they may not deal.

Talk Permitted
But they often stop and chat with the few French merchants long-settled here for nothing forbids doctored conversations with inhabitants.

When the French maquis took possession of the surrounding countryside in 1944, the Alcaide helped a score of carabinieri arrive to set up in a house on the main street. Just what they could have done against the Maquis still is a matter of grave doubt in the villagers' minds. But no notable incidents occurred.

But Livlia will be glad when it's over. Especially the old merchant at whom customs officers used to wink when he brought his cart full of fine foodstuffs for the French families in the neighborhood over the road to the crossing.

SINEK REELECTED BY CITY ICE AND FUEL CO.

Annual Meeting Held Today in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, April 18.—William J. Sinek of Chicago, was re-elected president of the City Ice & Fuel Company at the company's annual meeting held today. He informed stockholders of satisfactory earnings progress in the first quarter of 1945 after a record profit year in 1944. Sinek outlined plans for the expansion and diversification of activities of the company, which operates plants in 20 states, Canada and Mexico.

He stressed particularly the intent of the company to develop its annual volume of beer distribution to 1,000,000 barrels, a goal which would place City Ice among leaders in the brewery industry.

In a review of management planning, Sinek told stockholders that ice production would be increased to keep pace with demand for additional refrigeration services of many sorts. He spoke particularly of the growing need for improved preservation of vitamin content of fresh fruits and vegetables.

In a brief review of employee relations, Sinek told stockholders of inauguration of an employee training course built around audio-visual education techniques developed during the war by the armed forces. Sinek stated that the company is pressing an intensified program of advertising and promotion on a national scale.

Stockholders voted at the meeting to fix the number of company directors at 13.

Officers of the company were re-elected. They are: Henry J. Adams of Cincinnati; Richard C. Muckerman of St. Louis; Walter B. Muckerman of St. Louis; P. P. Rhode of Chicago; William A. Schmidt of Chicago, vice president; T. J. Beck, G. H. Genger and H. S. Humason, all of Chicago, assistant vice presidents; Harry W. Dunkle, secretary-treasurer; Daniel J. Mulvihill, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer; William F. Zeidler, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer; Eugene F. Rosfelder, controller; and Eugene P. Ellenberger, assistant controller, all of Chicago.

Louisiana has been an independent state twice—for 10 months after revolt against Spanish rule in 1769, and for six weeks after secession from the union before joining the Confederacy in 1861.

Galion Vet Turns His Prisoner of War Dreams Into GI Job with Poultry Farm

Special to The Star
 MARION, April 15—On the cover page of the Ohio Farmer, is the picture of a Galion boy who was a prisoner of the Germans for 16 months, and his wife. The full-page picture shows Walter Williams, 23, and his wife, Lucy, with a basket of white eggs.
 The boy, who is now a poultry farmer in Huron, Ohio, is the son of a Galion family. He was captured by the Germans at Hanover after he parachuted out of his B-17 bomber which was shot down. Five of the crew lived through the ordeal while five others were killed. This was on Jan. 11, 1944, and it was not until May, 1945, that he was liberated by the Americans.
 The article states that during those 16 long months he read and studied to pass the time. Some of his reading and studying was about poultry, and he decided then that if he ever got out of that prison camp, he'd like to get on a poultry farm.

 Back in the United States, Walter had heard that on-the-job training was to be provided by the Veterans Administration. He talked with Guy Hummer, county agricultural agent in Huron county, about some poultryman who might be interested in taking him on as a trainee. Clayton Albright who has a laying flock of 2,500 hens was suggested. After that Walter went to the Huron County Veterans Service Commission at Norwalk.
 Now Walter is feeding baby chicks, cleaning and grading eggs and doing all of the other work that will give him skill as a poultryman. He is receiving pay from the farm operator and his government allowance for education. He and his wife live in a house on the Albright farm.
 That is the gist of the farm magazine story.

In Galion Graduate
 Walter's story from Galion is something like this. The oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Williams of North Market street, he was graduated from Galion High school. Then he went to Park Ridge, Ill., a suburb of Chicago, where he worked for a year in an office. In the same office was Lucy Brockman. In November, 1942, Walter was 20, and was drafted into service. In October, 1943, he and Lucy were married, and the next month he was sent overseas. Two months later he was a prisoner of war.
 Neither Walter nor Lucy had ever lived on a farm, but they are working together and enjoying it.

Walter's choice of an occupation is far different from that of his father and grandfathers. His father is stationary engineer at the Galion Municipal Light and Power plant, while his maternal grandfather, Dr. H. H. Hartmann of Galion, is still practicing medicine and for 20 years he was mayor of the city (until 1933). Walter's paternal grandfather, the late J. F. Williams, was a railroad man.

of Irish tea and Gracie Wall for members and guests of the Youth Fellowship.
 At 9:30 the church school service will be under the direction of Earl James, superintendent. Special features in keeping with the Easter theme will be presented.

Rev. Davis will preach on "Fear Not, the Bands of Death Are Broken," at the 10:30 worship service. An Easter anthem by the choir under the direction of Miss Helen Root will be a feature. The Youth Fellowship will meet at 6:45 p. m. Irma Lee Wall and Martina Adams will conduct a discussion. The closing service of the day will be at 7:30. The theme of this service and the subject of the sermon will be "The After-glow of Easter."

Births Outnumber Deaths in Month
 Births outnumbered deaths by 17 in Marion county during March, according to reports from the city and county health departments.
 Number of births reported was 68, 68 for the city and one for the county. Reason for the low number in the county is that a majority of county babies are born in Marion city hospital, county health authorities report.
 Deaths in the county for last month numbered 51, five female and seven male, and in the city 40, 17 female and 23 male. Total number of deaths was 52.
 Total number of deaths in the combined city-county area was six less than in February, when 58 deaths were reported. Total births for February was 68, one less than last month.
 Girls exceeded boys by one in last month's birth record. The death record showed 30 males and 22 females.

DELAWARE CO. JUDGE TO QUIT

Wickham Announces He Will Return to Private Practice of Law

Special to The Star
DELAWARE, April 18.—Delaware County Common Pleas Judge Fred H. Wickham has announced he plans to resign because there is not enough work for the court. He explained that the court duties do not require the full-time services of any man at present and said he would enter private law practice in Delaware.

Judge Wickham first appointed in 1937, and he would submit his resignation to Gov. Frank J. Lausche as soon as matters now in process of decision can be disposed of in common pleas court. Judge Wickham has been judge of common pleas court since October 1937 when he was selected by the late Gov. Martin J. Davis. The appointment followed Judge Lausche's appointment to the Ohio board of pardon and parole.

During his nine years on the common pleas bench Judge Wickham completed an unusual record and was responsible for installation of a modern system of ventilation and supervision for cases where probation is indicated. The system was established in Delaware in advance of recent state statutes on the subject. In announcing his resignation Judge Wickham said it is with the greatest regret that he has finally decided to resign from the bench and return to private practice of law. The matter has been under consideration for several months and he has realized the urge to quit judicial work for more than a year.

The judge added there is not sufficient number of cases in court now to keep him busy and he must be in order to enjoy his work for instance in 1944 he tried only two in all this year he has only two short jury trials and no longer expects that sort of monthly jury work.

Returning to private practice he said again he will be a more productive member of this community. Sheriff's Office Seeks Clue in Burglary

The Marion county sheriff's office today continued to seek clues in connection with the Dues restaurant break-in at Prospect Tuesday night. Fingerprinters were taken during yesterday's investigation, the sheriff's office reported but no other clues were found which might lead to the apprehension of the person or persons who ransacked the building and equipped with between $240 and $300 in cash. Ed Fetter, Prospect merchant, said the cash register was looted and money taken from seven or eight other places where it had been hidden. The building was entered by breaking and crawling through a window in the women's rest room.

PROSPECT EASTER SERVICE
The Easter school for Sunday school attendants at the Methodist church in Prospect has been set at 2:00, Rev. J. R. Wind, pastor announced. At morning worship Sunday the sacrament of baptism for infants and small children will be observed and an Easter message presented. Last Sunday 28 adults and 12 young people were received in membership of the church. Rev. Wind reported for the Pleasant Sunday night service at 7:45 a sound motion picture "The Story of the Prodigal Son" will be presented a story of human interest and emotions that carries a divine message of eternal importance not an interpretation but the story itself as Jesus told it. The service will be open to the public.

A bottle of ammonia and a rag kept near your range will keep in handy when food or grease has been spilled on the stove.

TRUMAN-NAVY FIGHT EASED

Secretary Forrestal Agrees Some Form of Merger Is Needed by U. S.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 18.—Secretary of the Navy Forrestal's agreement to a form of unification is desirable, the administration has agreed to the merger of the navy and the army into a single service, the White House has announced today.

Forrestal carried the peace agreement a full further with firm advice to navy officers to pipe down on their merger speeches or other propaganda and stick to congressional testimony.

Forrestal indicated no action is contemplated against Rear Adm. A. S. Merrill whose comments to newsmen last week were said by the White House to have prompted President Truman's original criticism of what he termed "navy lobbying."

Forrestal gave reporters his idea upon emerging from a 90-minute meeting yesterday with Mr. Truman. Also present were Assistant Secretary John L. Sullivan and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, chief of naval operations.

The cabinet officer said everybody was agreed in the desire for a better mechanism which means unification but he added that the form unification should assume was something still to be worked out.

Forrestal's reference to unification contrasts with the original navy position that while there is a need for an overall coordinating structure, unification of the Army and Navy into a single command is neither necessary nor helpful.

A Senate military subcommittee has drafted a bill proposing a department of common defense, which would contain the separate but coordinated staffs of the Army, Navy and Air Force. The measure contains much of what the Army and the President had requested as well as some of what the Navy had offered in its counterproposal for a national security plan.

The bill also includes suggestions for military planning in any general organization.

Truman Vets It Up

The long standing dispute took on a rougher character last week when Mr. Truman rapped out an anti-merger lobbying he said was being done by admirals and others in Navy.

Truman said he was not in favor of a merger of the Army and Navy into a single command.

Mackenzie Rakes Russian's Blasts at U. S. Policies

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

General MacArthur, answering Russian criticism of his administration in Japan, has told the four-power Allied council in about 20 many hand-picked words that consideration of his past actions is his job.

This blunt reply has been capped by Brig. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's military government officer. Whitney declared that Russia's question of Allied occupation policy.

Whether in good faith or not is a matter of opinion. Whitney said the success of the occupation is the result of the Russian delegate's position should be interpreted that way. Both these statements from Dewitt Mackenzie.

The American camp fit into the picture created recently by charges leveled at the United States by Britain by Russian publications and radio.

For example we hear the Moscow radio quoting the magazine New Times as saying that the greatest danger facing the U. S. arises from the efforts of certain definite circles to make the United Nations an instrument for the domination of some countries over others to turn it into a weapon of the Anglo-American bloc.

The New Times also declares that "promises given during the war to the Philippines are not being kept" and that the formal independence to be given the Philippines is being joined with complete domination of the country's economy by America.

What's The Answer?

Well, what's the answer to these harsh accusations against Uncle Sam? Is he trying to establish hegemony over the Philippines and Japan?

American Secretary of State Byrnes stated his position succinctly in a pronouncement he issued on February 28 last when he said:

We will do nothing to break the world into exclusive blocs or spheres of influence. In this atomic age we will not seek to divide a world which is one and indivisible.

That's clear enough and true. Still it equally true that this policy doesn't relieve the United States of obligations which it incurred when it freed the Philippines from Spain half a century ago, and again when it played the major role in conquering Japan and thereby had placed upon it one of the greatest trusts any nation ever had to assume.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, April 18.—Sheriff Homer S. Roosa has been notified the farm home of George Vollrath on State Route 38, near Chucky, was entered and ransacked Sunday night about the same time the homes of William Schmidt and John Schmidt of near Chucky were entered.

The sheriff also said that the robbery of Shelby county was here Wednesday in connection with the robbery of several homes in that county recently. The Shelby county official told Sheriff Roosa that he believes the robberies have been committed by a gang from Springfield.

At the Vollrath home a toaster and $20 in currency were reported stolen. At the William Schmidt home more than $500 worth of woodworking tools and other articles, including money, were stolen. Nothing was reported missing from the John Schmidt home.

The sheriff said he thinks there may be a connection between the robberies of the homes in the Chucky community and the burglaries of homes near Marysville, and near Parisburg and Richwood on Sunday night, April 7.

Government Moves To Speed Flow of Wheat To Market

The Marion county AAA office received notice today that the U. S. department of agriculture will buy wheat from farmers, for immediate delivery to the Commodity Credit Corp., at the market price in any later date the seller may elect on or before March 31, 1947.

In explaining the new regulation, local AAA officials said farmers will deliver their wheat to the government now and receive the market price on that particular day. Reason for the new regulation, AAA officials said, was the government believed many farmers were holding wheat in storage for a possible rise in the present ceiling price. The department's offer is being made to speed the movement of wheat off the farms for relief of the current famine emergency abroad. Under the new regulations a farmer may deliver his wheat to a local elevator now, for which he will receive a certificate of delivery, and the price he receives will depend on the ceiling price of wheat on the day he wishes to make the sale. The adjustments in price will be made through the Commodity Credit Corp.

Offer Open Until July 1.
Present price of wheat in Marion county is $1.76, at the farm or 1.77, delivered, local dealers report.

The offer will be open to farmers until July 1, 1946, unless closed at an earlier date by announcement of the CCC. Wheat eligible for purchase will be that which would have been eligible for CCC loans under the 1945 loan program, AAA officials said.

On or after the date of delivery, the seller may select any date subsequent to the date on which he makes his selection and on or before March 31, 1947, as the date on which the purchase price may be determined. The price will be the market price as determined by the production and marketing administration as of the date selected by the seller. Only one date for determining the purchase price may be made for any one lot of wheat.

No Partial Payments.
If the producer does not inform the CCC in writing of his selection of a date for the purchase price, the purchase price will be the market price on March 31, 1947. No partial payments will be made.

Under a ruling of the commissioner of internal revenue, payments received by producers, who select a market price on or after Jan. 1, 1947 for wheat delivered to CCC under this program, may be reported for income tax purposes as income received in 1947.

CHURCH FILLED FOR PRE-EASTER SERVICE

Mrs. Margaret Huffman on School Clubs Program.

With a series of services sponsored by the church and H-Y clubs, a high school, Miss Huffman, director of religious at Epworth church, spoke this morning to a capacity audience of high school students and members in the church.

When Morning Gilds the Skies, Mrs. Huffman gave the call to worship, followed by the morning lesson read by Dorothy Decker. After singing of "Hail to the Majesty," Miss Huffman gave the sermon.

In her address, "The Cross in Our Today," Miss Huffman emphasized the importance of making the ordinary things of life made them extraordinary. He made the Cross into a crown, death into life.

Miss Huffman stressed three factors: gratitude, forgiveness, and service. "Service means putting into action the deeds of our teachings," she said.

Following the sermon, a prayer was given by Harold Patterson and a solo, "Were You There?" was sung by Don Thomas. The benediction was given by John Stuckey.

The last of these pre-Easter services will be conducted Easter morning at 7:30 at the Harding Memorial. This traditional sunrise service has been conducted for the last 17 years by the Harding and Edison Girl Reserves and H-Y clubs as a climax to the annual pre-Easter services. Rev. Claire T. Crenshaw will give the address. The service will be conducted by Girl Reserves and H-Y members with the cooperation of the Vernon Boys' choir and several other choral groups. In the event of bad weather the Easter morning service will be at Trinity Baptist church.

Students in charge of today's service were Bernice Coser, John Stuckey and Harold Patterson.

Lifelong Marysville Resident Celebrates His 90th Birthday

MARYSVILLE, O., April 18—William F. Morey, one of Union county's oldest and best known citizens who lives at the Oakland Hotel here, has been receiving the congratulations of his many friends on the recent celebration of his 90th birthday.

Mr. Morey has spent all his lifetime in this community. He was in the furniture business for 60 years in Marysville. His father was in the same business 12 years. He is the oldest member of the Congregational church here. He has been an active member of the Old Fellows for 50 years.

Mr. Morey lighted the first gas-line street lights in Marysville. He said there were about 150 of the "contraptions" in town at that time. He retired from business in 1924.

The only son of Mr. Morey, Commander Frank L. Morey, dental surgery, U.S.N., died during the war. His great-grandson, John A. Thomas, five, lives in Washington, D. C. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank Morey now lives in Cleveland.

U. S. NEWS LEADER URGES FIGHT FOR FREE PRESS

Akron Publisher Reviews Efforts Of American Press.

WASHINGTON, April 18—Reviewing two years of effort toward world news freedom by the American Society of Newspaper Editors, John S. Knights of Akron, society president, said today ASNE should continue to fight for "freedom of communications everywhere."

Opening the society's 23rd annual meeting, the publisher of the Knight newspapers declared the goal of American editors is "the right of reporters to file uncensored dispatches from any part of the world."

Correspondents, he added, also should have "proper access to the sources of the news."

Knights' report opened a three-day convention which has a decided international flavor this year. Three Russian writers were invited to attend the sessions and participate in a round table discussion later today, along with Wilbur Forrest, assistant editor, New York Herald-Tribune and first vice president of ASNE.

Trygve Lie, director general of the United Nations, will make the principal address at a banquet of the editors Saturday night.

Smoking in Bed Causes Second Fire in 15 Hours

Smoking in bed caused the second fire in 15 hours Wednesday when the cigarette of a member of the family at the home of C. A. Murion of 273 Davis street ignited bed clothes. Firemen from the West Center street station and Central answered the call at 8:52 p. m. They estimated the damage at $30.

A grass fire at the rear of 527 Bellefontaine avenue at 11:34 a. m. was answered in the line car. There was no damage.

A chimney burning out at the home of Frank Coleman of 767 York street caused an alarm at 9:14 a. m. which was answered by the chief's car. No loss resulted.

SOLONS OKAY GI LEAVE PAY

218 of House Members Sign Petition To Give Men Same Benefit as Officers.

WASHINGTON, April 18—Hopes of terminal leave pay awarded today for millions of GIs as a majority of house members signed on the dotted line in their behalf.

Unless the representatives change their minds, the house on May 12 will vote to give all enlisted personnel, including those already discharged, the same accrued leave pay consideration now given to officers.

On that day the legislation will come before the house automatically under so-called discharge procedure.

The 218th signature to a petition taking the legislation out of the hands of the military committee and putting it on the house business calendar was affixed yesterday.

Budget Threat Seen Although a military subcommittee had approved the legislation, the full committee shelved it after the budget bureau reported it would conflict with the budget, which made no provision for such an expenditure estimated by the bureau as "several billions."

The fact that a majority of house members signed the discharge petition indicated the budget bureau would be overruled. The house rarely turns down a proposal brought to a vote under discharge procedure.

The legislation would be retroactive to all enlisted personnel who have served since the draft law was enacted before the war started. It stipulates that for all unused furlough time, they must be paid in cash.

Enlisted personnel are entitled to 30 days furlough annually but unused time is cancelled automatically at the end of the year. Officers are entitled to the same amount of leave, but regulations permit them to carry over unused time from year to year up to a maximum of four months.

Upon leaving the service, they receive the so-called terminal leave pay for the unused time.

The house legislation would apply a similar 120-day limit to the amount of furlough time an enlisted man can accumulate, and allow the time to add up at the rate of two and one-half days a month. The latter is the same formula now applying to officers.

The bill provides for a lump-sum payment to enlisted men of all services at the time of their discharge. Men already discharged would have one year to apply for theirs.

Rogers estimated the total cost at between $2,000,000,000 and $3,000,000,000, although some estimates have put it as high as $8,000,000,000.

Facsimile Machine Prints Newspaper by Radio in Test

NEW YORK, April 18—A radio facsimile machine that prints four-column newspaper at the rate of 500 words a minute was demonstrated yesterday at the laboratory of Radio Inventions, Inc., a research group engaged in an experimental project sponsored by 20 newspapers and radio stations throughout the nation.

John V. L. Hogan, president of the company, said the facsimile broadcasting equipment was demonstrated eventually to bring newspapers and other printed matter into the American home via radio.

News, photographs, maps, charts and cartoons were reproduced during the demonstration by means of signals from an FM type radio broadcasting station. The machine—just a little larger than a portable typewriter—can be used as an attachment or in combination with an FM home receiver.

The device turns out printed pages measuring 8 1/2 by 12 inches at the rate of 28 square inches per minute.

FM radio station WBAM was used in yesterday's demonstration. Copy at the station, mounted on a cylindrical drum, was scanned by an electric eye and broadcast.

At the receiving laboratory, many city blocks away, the copy was reproduced by passing an electrical signal through chemically treated electro-sensitive white paper.

Housing Policy To Favor Vets' Homes Designed for Rental

WASHINGTON, April 18—Marking of more new homes for rental under the veterans' housing program is being planned today in a projected new code of construction controls.

This is in line with the insistence of housing expeditor William W. Wyatt that many ex-GIs cannot afford to buy new homes. Officials in close touch with the emergency drive said Wyatt was putting the final touches on an order channeling 50 per cent of all residential materials into houses costing well under the $10,000 limit now in force.

The new dividing line will range from about $6,000 in some communities to about $8,500 in high-cost areas, according to these authorities who would not be quoted by name.

Half of the construction priorities under proposed new ceilings, they said, will be assigned to builders who agree to rent the completed structures, instead of selling them.

Another clause is designed to prevent all other priority-aided houses from being priced at the $10,000 limit. Before getting priorities, builders would be required to prove to local federal housing officials that the value built into the house has a "reasonable relationship" to the proposed sales price.

BRADY LAKE GAMING CLEAN-UP PROMISED

COLUMBUS, O., April 17—The governor's campaign against reported gambling in Brady Lake simmered down today with assurances by the village's mayor, Joseph Cox, that slot machines would be removed.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, after a surprise conference yesterday, said he had been promised the removal by Cox and Portage County Sheriff George Shields.

The governor also referred to reports of elaborate bingo games with prizes as high as $1,500. "I told him (Mayor Cox), he said, 'to find out if the bingo games were being run by a charitable institution.'"

"I told him it appeared to me it was a commercial venture and without any vestige of charitable purposes, and, if that was a fact, it would have to be stopped."

OPA LIFTS PRICES FOR REFRIGERATORS

WASHINGTON, April 18—OPA today raised retail price ceilings on new refrigerators by four per cent over March, 1942 levels to offset higher production costs.

The agency granted manufacturers an eight per cent increase, which it said will be reflected in full at retail.

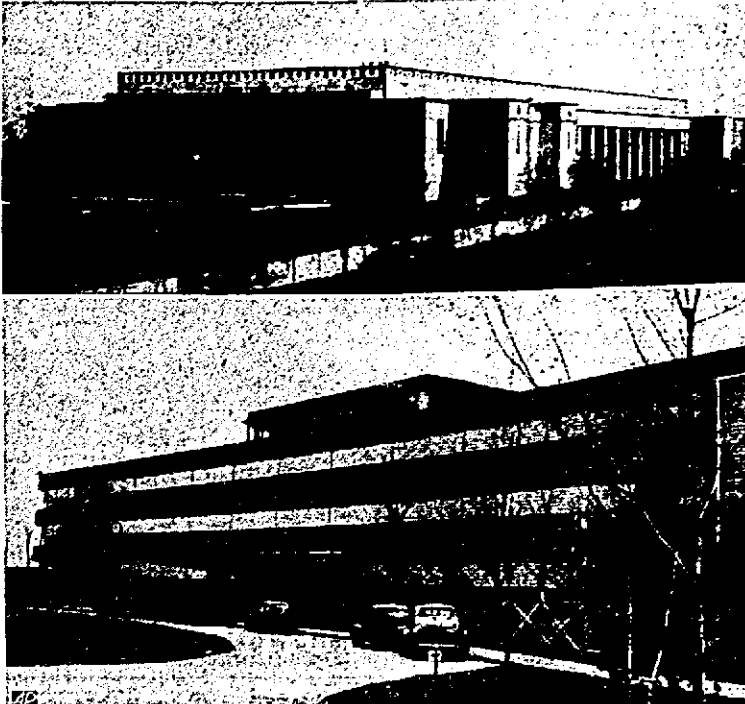

The retail price hike is less on a percentage basis than the manufacturers' increase because the latter adjustment being passed on in the exact dollar-and-cent amount rather than on a mark-up basis.

The eight per cent increase allowed manufacturers is the first industry-wide price boost granted the industry since the end of the war, OPA said. It reflects all labor and material cost increases allowable under the new wage-price policy, the agency said.

Marshall Faces Job of Saving China's Peace

By RICHARD CUSHING AP Writer

SHANGHAI, April 18—The delicately-constructed peace engineered by General Marshall in his first three months in China crumbled at its foundations during his absence of less than five weeks.

It is generally believed here that it will take all his diplomatic and prestige to again prop up China's wobbling internal structure.

When the special U. S. envoy left for Washington March 11, that structure looked fairly solid.

Marshall had brought Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang and the Chinese Communists together for a truce. It had been agreed to bring Communist divisions into a national army of 60 divisions, one-fifth its war-time size.

Only a few hours before he left, a Kuomintang-Communist truce committee agreed to send its trouble-shooting teams into Manchuria. It seemed likely a coalition government would be formed while he was away.

Situation Needs Watching After he left, however, the situation in Manchuria deteriorated.

CIO PROBES LINCOLN INCENTIVE SYSTEM

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 18—A report on the "incentive system" of the Lincoln Electric Co., where workers share in profits on the basis of work performed, was handed back to Pittsburgh today by an aide to CIO President Phil Murray.

Research Director Harold J. Rutenberg of the CIO United Steelworkers of America declared following an all-day visit to the plant yesterday "no one can dispute the fact that, compared with Lincoln Electric, management of most other industry is backward."

Rutenberg, sent by Murray to inspect conditions and investigate the system, emphasized none of his remarks was to be construed as an endorsement and said he would make a written report.

He commented, however, that he saw "no impediment" to its working in a union shop.

Based on piecemeal, in order that track can be kept of how much a worker contributes to the company's success, the plan was described by President James F. Lincoln as resulting in an average income of more than $5,800 last year for workers.

Employees receive regular pay equal to prevailing rates in similar industries in this area, Lincoln explained, and at the end of the year are given a share of profits on the basis of contributions to the firm's success. The plan has been criticized by both industry and unions.

U. S. Probes Soviet Role As Iran Puts Lid on All News

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18—Iran's sudden resort to drastic news censorship sent the state department on an urgent two-way quest today to determine:

1. Whether the action was Russian inspired, and

2. What the United States might be able to do to get the iron lid lifted.

Indications are that an explanation is being asked from the Iranian government of Premier Ahmed Qavam.

This is expected to show whether there is any connection between yesterday's dramatic imposition of "blind censorship" and the increasing Soviet pressure on Qavam's government because of the still pending row over Iran in the United Nations security council.

The form which Iran chose for control over out-going news is one that was used in Russia from about March 1 or earlier until March 23 but then partially modified.

How It Works It is known both among newspapermen and within the state department as "blind censorship" because it denies correspondents the opportunity to learn what changes have been made in their censored dispatches. This may be used by an unscrupulous censor to distort the meaning of stories.

The new censorship policy as disclosed to correspondents by the Iranian ministry of posts and telegraphs was reported to Washington by the American embassy at Tehran. A state department announcement said:

Notification will not be given to foreign correspondents when their dispatches are suspended nor will they be given an opportunity by the ministry to make changes or to discuss such suspensions of their dispatches.

The state of the censorship was so tight, the embassy told the state department, that reporters were not even allowed to inform their home offices.

Had Been Free Iran has been a free-news country and, in the opinion of American diplomatic authorities, the steady flow of information out of that country during its continuing dispute with Russia has served Iran's interests well on the whole.

It was this fact which led to strong suspicions among these authorities that censorship may have been imposed at Russia's insistence.

SCHOOL SET FOR OHIO MENTAL ATTENDANTS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 18—Little university covering subjects ranging from how to make a bed to the mental problems of elderly people will be established at Fletcher hospital, near Cambridge after the state takes possession of the former Army institution.

Dr. Frank F. Tallman, state commissioner of mental hygiene, disclosed yesterday that persons hired as attendants in all state hospitals would be given two week intensive training course which later may be extended to two weeks.

Meanwhile, staff physicians and technicians at Fletcher hospital will start a research program with the first project to be on geriatrics, or psychiatric problems of old people.

Dr. Arthur Hopwood will Fletcher superintendent and Robert Wagner, director of mental hygiene information service, will be in charge of the school.

The training, first of its kind to be given in Ohio, will be designed to fit the attendants to help patients recover from mental illnesses, Dr. Tallman said.

"The attitude and ability of the attendant makes a great difference in the treatment of the patient," he explained. "A bad attendant can slow down a patient's recovery immensely."

Fletcher, which has a capacity of about 2,500 patients, was built as an Army general hospital in 1942 and was declared surplus to the Army early this year. The Army is scheduled to vacate by May 1. Dr. Tallman hopes to start placing Ohio's mental patients there immediately afterward.

G.O.P. CHIEFTAIN SEES PRESS, RADIO THREAT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18—Carroll Reece, chairman of the Republican national committee, said yesterday the administration was trying to "infringe" upon freedom of the press and air.

Addressing a National Press club luncheon, the new G.O.P. chairman declared "You are seeing today, months after hostilities have ended, attempts on the part of this administration to subvert so called 'official news' to the untrammeled news reports of American news services and newspapers."

"Such a substitution," he added, "would be just as dangerous as the more obvious forms of censorship used in totalitarian nations. I am sure many of you also are familiar with similar attempted infringements upon the freedom of the air. If any governmental agency is ever permitted to control the radio programs of the nation, then freedom of the air will be dead."

Reece said while it may be true that so far no serious damage has been done, "the time to prevent the destruction of the edifice of freedom is before, and not after, it has been undermined."

Eagles Vote Donation to Cancer Campaign Buckeye Aerle of Eagles voted to donate $25 to the Marion county Junior Chamber of Commerce drive for funds for the American Cancer Society at a weekly meeting Wednesday night. Fifteen applications for membership were received. Initiation for April will be held next Wednesday night. Nomination of officers will also be held at that time.

"I really look 30 instead of my true age, 48..."

From many, many thousands of statements such as that above which have come to us over the last 5 years from women in middle life, we give you this assurance—ENDOCREME has no equal in the way it can help many women to recapture firmness, freshness, softness, vibrant youthful charm for the skin of face and throat. It contains that scientific beauty-blessing, ACTIVOL, an effective replacement for woman's own natural, skin-beautifying substance. CALLS BIBLE GOOD BOOK ON PSYCHIATRY

Delaware Lecturer and Traveler Speaks Before Class.

Although psychiatry is generally considered one of the most modern sciences, an excellent textbook on the subject has been in existence for the past two or three thousand years in the Bible, Mrs. Alma Sheridan of Delaware, lecturer and writer, told the Wednesday noon Bible class at the Y. M. C. A. Speaking on the subject, "The Bible as a Textbook of Personality Development," Mrs. Sheridan pointed out that most problems of human behavior which send people to psychiatrists today have answers in the Bible. The Book of Proverbs in particular is rich in good advice, she said. "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he," "let not thy anger consume thee," "a soft answer turneth away wrath," "love thy enemies," and other famous quotations from the Bible were cited by Mrs. Sheridan. Joshua was told not to be afraid, and Paul said, "I count not myself to have made good, but this one thing I do, forget the things which are behind—these attitudes are necessary to good mental hygiene in any age," Mrs. Sheridan said. Mrs. Sheridan, a frequent contributor to church and youth guidance magazines, is the wife of the head of the educational department at Ohio Wesleyan university.

HANNEGAN GETS PAT ON BACK BY TRUMAN

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 17—President Truman expressed his personal friendship today for Chairman Robert E. Hannegan of the Democratic national committee who has been under the fire of some southern Democrats. At his news conference Mr. Truman was asked in view of criticisms of Hannegan voiced by some Democratic congressmen, whether he was considering a new chairman to the national committee. "No, the President replied. He added that selection of a chairman was a matter for the national committee. (Senator Stewart (D-Tenn) has introduced legislation which would operate to force Hannegan either to resign as postmaster general or national chairman.) The President said he had not talked with Hannegan about a caucus called by Democrats who want to discuss "mistakes" by the national committee. Mr. Truman observed with a smile that he saw in the newspapers that some Republicans had gotten invitations, which he thought was a good thing. One reporter mentioned the visit to the White House yesterday of six Democratic senators up for election this year. He said that the senators, who included Mead of New York, quoted Mr. Truman as applauding senate progress on his legislative program. The reporter wanted to know if the President would tell the press what had been done, and if so, when, to spur the congratulations. Mr. Truman only laughed heartily.
